

Q. Saturday? Sure it was Saturday?

A. Yes. I can verify that by Mr. Lyons.

Q. And when did you get the clothes back?

A. I think, if I am not mistaken it might have been Tuesday.

Q. Of the following week?

A. Yes. Very shortly after the funeral. It might have been Tuesday; might have been Wednesday.

Q. Did you send anything else to the cleaners place?

A. I did leave a hat. I went down Saturday night to get a new hat and left the old hat, but he did not do anything at all to it.

Q. Left it where?

A. At Mr. Parker's.

Q. What kind?

A. Same kind as I am wearing this morning.

Q. Where is that hat now?

A. The one I bought?

Q. No, the one you sent to get cleaned?

A. At home in my room. Just like that.

Q. What kind of dirt on the hat?

A. Oh sweat and a little dirt.

Q. You say he did not clean it?

A. No, I left that Saturday night.

Q. Take it yourself?

A. Yes. Wore that down and brought this one.

Q. With instructions to have it cleaned?

A. I did make some remark to see if he could clean it for me.

Q. I wish you would tell me Mr. Stevens, if you can, I do not want to insist on your saying what you don't know. I wish
